Start of Block: Default Question Block

Q1 Epistimi Application Form for 2024 Virtual Courses

The Epistimi leadership program is an introductory leadership program with space for 20 participants depending on which program you select. The selection process will be blinded and guided largely by the intention to create a diverse group of participants across fields of STEMM, career stages, current roles, and developmental goals. The content of your personal statement and leadership project is particularly important for how we evaluate your application.

Please make sure you have prepared answers to all the questions in the application instructions document. You cannot save your work and come back to it at another time but must submit it in one sitting which should take less than 10 min if you have prepared your answers.

Q15 The Epistimi leadership program requires all participants to have a leadership project in mind when they apply to the program. Throughout the program, you will have the opportunity to discuss your project with all participants and receive their feedback. The leadership project can be as simple as starting a mentoring program in your department or as complex and ambitious as creating policy to require all new cars sold to be hybrid or electric vehicles. The only requirement is that you are passionate about this initiative and want to work on it at some point in the future. Please share your purpose. (Maximum 250 words)
